

Guide To Moving

Your Move, Our Experience.

For many years, we have been meeting the relocation needs of our customers. The company was founded specifically to address the requirements of individuals and families moving abroad.

Moving your family to a foreign country is a major undertaking. Although making the arrangements, traveling, and finally settling into your new home may be exciting, it demands a great deal of time and effort. Much of this, however, can be avoided through careful planning and preparation. A successful household relocation is the beginning of a smooth transition into a new environment.

International moving presents challenges that are not encountered in domestic shipping. The increased physical stresses on an international shipment require unique packing and loading skill, as well as a detailed knowledge of all facets of transportation systems, and a myriad of import and export regulations. This Guide to Moving was created to help you and your family prepare for these challenges.

We look forward to working together with you and will devote all of our experience, skill, and effort to every detail of your move.

“Your expectation teamed with our expertise.”

Your Moving Schedule

Early preparation and knowledge of the relocation process helps to prevent last minute surprises on the day of your move. Prior to making your travel arrangements, please notify your move Coordinator of your preferred pack dates. It is very important your preparation and participation in all aspects of the move to ensure a more efficient transition.

The sooner you inform us of your plans, the greater the likelihood we will be able to secure the move dates of your choice. Also, make sure your coordinator has your contact information current.

Protection for your goods

We are highly effective in claims reduction and management. Although we have safeguards in place to anticipate and prevent problems, there remains a possibility that damage can occur for several reasons such as port container handling, container inspection from Customs, civil unrest or Acts of God. For this reason, transit insurance exists.

Full value replacement protection is based on the value declared on your valued inventory. You will be asked to prepare a valued inventory of all your belongings in advance of your moving day. Items not included in the inventory are not insured. Make sure you let us know if you add more things to the shipment before packing. Items of high value must be specifically noted. Depending on their value, they may require a formal Appraisal.

“We don't promise you the moon.... Just a perfect Move !”
